Inmates flee cyanide gas in jail fire

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Hancock County Jail in Bay St. Louis could have become a death chamber Thursday morning for 17 inmates as cyanide gas, smoke and heat from a burning foam rubber mattress filled the 43-year-old building.

But quick action by County Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson, Trusty Harold Gols of Bay St. Louis and the Waveland and Bay Fire Departments avoided serious injury to any prisoners.

The sheriff said Friday morning, prisoners Ken Rawley of Orange Grove, Calif.; Jimmy Johnson and Reginald Lionel, both of Bay St. Louis; and Thomas Gillum of Kiln were treated by local doctors for smoke inhalation.

Coincidentally, earlier that morning a meeting at the Courthouse to discuss local jail facilities was rescheduled just before the jailhouse blaze occurred.

Peterson reported the meeting was postponed because a representative of Gulf Regional Planning Commission 'didn't show up.'

Gulf Regional is working with Hancock County and a national consulting firm to find a means to improve local jail facilities.

Peterson revealed Friday morning an inmate confessed to igniting the foam rubber mattress on the second floor of the jail building.

"We are discussing with the county attorney the possibility of filing charges against Gillum," Peterson stated.

"The night before the fire Gillum cut his wrists and we had to take him to Hancock General Hospital for treatment," the sheriff reported.

Peterson said the alleged arsonist was originally arrested for disturbing the peace and was being held under $250 bond.

"Gillum was eligible to get out of jail, but due to the 'way he was acting' we felt he would be dangerous to himself or somebody else if he was released," the sheriff explained.

Peterson said five of the jail's mattresses were replaced Friday and the flammable foam rubber bedding was removed.

Bay St. Louis Fire Chief Andrew Lizana confirmed Thursday afternoon the burning mattress produced a cyanide gas.

After the blaze, deputies and police from Bay St. Louis and Waveland surrounded the jail's outdoor security fence area behind the Courthouse totting shotguns and riot gear so no prisoners would escape a fenced outdoor holding area.

The prisoners were returned to their cells two hours later after jail trustees cleaned water and smoke damage from the aging ironclad facility.

Peterson said only a few mattresses were damaged and the foam rubber mattress burned was 'completely disintegrated' in the blaze.

"We had a lot of cleaning up work," the sheriff added.

"It is fortunate no one was hurt and that we were able to get everybody out," Peterson stated.

"When I ran up to the cell area all I could see were flames leaping from the mattress and the smoke was so intense it was difficult to get doors unlocked so the people could get out," Peterson reported.

"Gols opened all the cell doors and we ran the prisoners down the stairs and outdoors," the sheriff said.

Most of the prisoners gasped for air as they exited the smoke-filled jail.

When Peterson and Gols came out of the jail building after releasing prisoners, both men wiped thick black soot from their mouths and noses.

"My sincere thanks goes to the Bay and Waveland police and fire departments and our deputies for their quick response to our emergency," Peterson stated.

The sheriff also reported a $600 Law Enforcement Assistance Administration grant application has been forwarded for 15 new fire resistant mattresses for the jail.

TOXIC SMOKE FELS PRISONERS—Prisoners exiting the Hancock County jail alternately fall unconscious, choke, gasp and cry after a close call with toxic smoke containing cyanide gas which filled the jail Thursday morning. Quick action by Sheriff Ronald Peterson in releasing the inmates is credited with saving lives in the incident. A burning mattress, allegedly ignited by a prisoner, was source of the acrid smoke. Investigator Alvin Ladner, left, guards the prisoners as they stagger out of the facility. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Advanced gifts of $4,014 open Hancock United Way

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The United Way of Hancock County will officially begin its 1980 fund raising campaign Monday with more than $4,000 'advance donations' already collected.

Campaign Chairman Dick Kosbab of Bay St. Louis asks local residents to make a Labor Day 'labor of love' by contributing to the United Way.

United Way Director Conrad Mauffray of Bay St. Louis reports, "Hundreds of letters have been mailed to regular contributors asking for donations for our advance donations campaign and we are sending letters to many other prospective givers in Hancock County."

"Our advance donation campaign will end Sunday, but anyone who gives to the United Way before Sep. 6 will be recognized as an advance giver," Mauffray says.

United Way board member Ena Piazza reported Friday total advance donations totaled $4,014.

This year's fund raising goal is $40,000 which will be divided among 15 agencies, 10 of which are local organizations.

The formal campaign will run two months, ending by the end of October.

The United Way's goal increased $5,000 from last year's campaign after the board of directors voted to include the Salvation Army and the Mississippi Council of Epilepsy, Inc. to its list of recipient agencies earlier this year.

United Way several years ago," he added.

United Way Treasurer Ellis Cuevas suggests local residents may also use the bank draft plan available at all local banks.

"The contributor may designate a certain amount be drawn from his bank account and this will be automatically deducted by the bank each month for the United Way," Cuevas explained.

Beyer reported, "All United Way workers are volunteers. Less than seven percent of our funds are used for operating expenses."

"Smaller drives sometimes average as high as 30 percent for campaign costs and overhead," she added.

Kosbab also urges employees of local businesses to participate in the payroll deduction plan.

Regular participants in the payroll plan include Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District, Combined Federal Employees, Coast Electric Power Association, duPont de Nemours, UNITED WAY—Page 8A

Cuevas balks at paying for unapproved work

By RICH ADAMS
Hancock County School Board Member Manuel Cuevas said Friday he will not vote to pay for any work which has not received prior approval from the board.

Cuevas, opposing payment of a $5,091 bill from Bay Contractors for 'punchlist' work to complete repairs of tornado damage at Gulfview Elementary, asked whether the board had approved the project.

Board Member Oris Ladner said the board approved having Bay Contractors complete the job during a recent inspection of district schools, but school records show no mention of any such approval.

Brief

VOLLEYBALL
Tryouts for Bay St. Louis Men's and Women's Volleyball League will be conducted at the St. Rose cafeteria Wednesday at 7 p.m. All interested persons are urged to attend.

Board Architect John Mykoloyk said he approved the punchlist items, but did not request the contractor to make the final repairs.

"Let me make this clear. I am not going to approve payment of another bill for which work was completed prior to school board approval. If that happens, the contractor may not get his money," Cuevas said.

Board Member Louie Ladner said the board authorized Superintendent Billy D. Sils to have the repairs completed.

Fireworks, telethon among weekend events

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Tonight will mark the 16th Annual Labor Day Weekend Fireworks display sponsored by the Waveland Civic Association in cooperation with the City of Waveland and the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

The fireworks display will start at 8:30 p.m. at the Garfield Ladner Memorial Pier on Beach Boulevard between Terrace and Coleman Avenues with free admission, according to J.A. Lagasse Jr., president of the Waveland Civic Association.

The Civic Association will also participate in the Annual Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon from 5 p.m. today through 6 p.m. Labor Day.

Association members and friends will man telephones for pledges for the Jerry Lewis fund raising event.

The telethon will be televised on WGNO, Channel 26, in New Orleans and also on local radio station WKGR live from Waveland City Hall Labor Day, according to Lagasse.

The Waveland Civic Association will be collecting for Hancock County and the telephone exchanges starting with 452 and 255 in Harrison County.

Pledges can be made by calling 467-4134, 467-9248 or 467-9249 during the telethon.

A fish bowl will also be on display in the lobby of Waveland City Hall to accommodate in-person contributions, according to Lagasse.

"Persons interested in helping may drop by the telethon headquarters on Sunday and Monday," Lagasse said.

Port officials aground on 'creeping sandbar'

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission is still awaiting U.S. Army Corps of Engineers approval to deepen a Port Blenville channel near the Pearl River to remove a 'creeping sandbar' partially blocking the waterway.

The Commission Thursday night authorized its attorney Robert Genin to begin negotiations with Jim Kelly, owner of Spoils Site No. Five which is adjacent to the shoaling channel area. Commission Director W. Wilson Webre reported, "We're highly optimistic we can use Spoils Site No. Five."

"We've alerted tenants at Port Blenville Industrial Park to gather data regarding their use of the channel..." the director said.

Webre reported the Corps verified receiving the commission's application for dredging, but added, "Normally these things take time."

The director said the Corps intends to use Site Five for spoils from the proposed channel dredging through Little Lake and 16 other sites were eliminated.

"Our costs would have been $95,000 with the Corps spending $1 million, but we will be relieved of the costs we bare," Webre reported.

Commissioner Robert Baxter said, "We might not be able to get a rowboat through there if we don't get it dredged soon."

The commissioners then reviewed Corps maps of channel water depths dated June 1980 and Feb 1980.

Webre noted, "If you compare those two maps you will see an increase in sediment. I suspect the shoaling in the channel near Pearl River was caused by the spring floods."

Commissioner Victor Frankiewicz stated, "It looks like we've got a creeping sandbar."

Regarding the proposed Little Lake channel dredging, Webre reported no response has yet been received from Louisiana Governor Dave Treen.

In other business, at the 7:30 p.m. recess meeting at the commission offices in Waveland, the board:

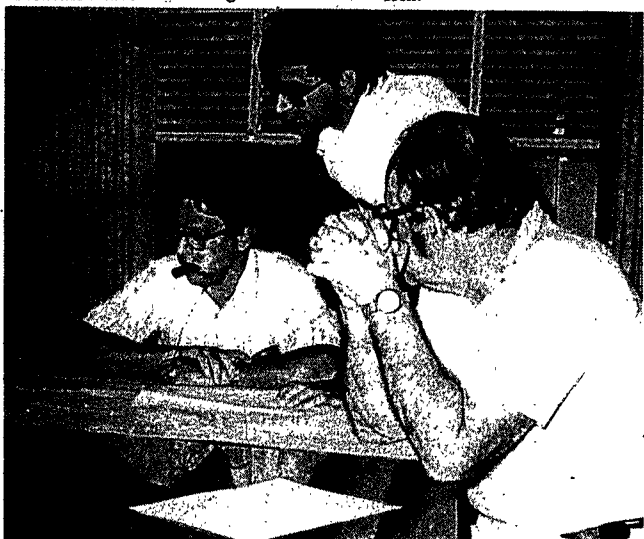

—Authorized emergency electrical repairs at the Port Blenville water tower not to exceed $500. Webre said lightning struck destroyed the electric meter for the tank's pump;

—Authorized transferring $7,141 from the Industrial Park Revenue Account to the Industrial Park Bond Account to pay loan interest to the Economic Development Administration for a period ending Sept. 1;

—Heard a report from Webre that the Bayou Cadet Harbor water well is drawing sand and a new well will have to be redrilled soon;

—Heard a report from Webre that forms for a Economic Development Administration project improving the Stennis International Airport Industrial Park road are being resubmitted as required by EDA.

NASA names Estess to 2nd slot at NSTL

Roy S. Estess has been named deputy manager of the National Space Technology Laboratories (NSTL), replacing Henry F. Auter who retired in February of this year.

The new deputy manager will assume the duties of the office immediately and will share with the manager the responsibility for the management of the installation.

The mission of NSTL is to support Space Shuttle Propulsion System development, conduct research and transfer activities in the fields of remote sensing and environmental research and to provide institutional and technical support to other government agencies resident at NSTL.

Estess brings to the position a long history at NSTL, beginning in February, 1968.

During the Saturn V acceptance test program he was a key member of the S-II static firing test team and subsequently directed the advanced planning effort for Shuttle testing at NSTL.

During the seventies he was assigned as special assistant to the NSTL Manager in developing new activities to assure the efficient utilization of the installation.

Since 1977 he has managed satellite remote sensing research and transfer activities in NSTL's Earth Resources Laboratory.

He received a Bachelor of Aerospace Engineering degree in 1960 from Mississippi State University and has additional training in propulsion, management and environmental science.

He is a registered professional engineer and a member of several professional organizations which include Sigma Gamma Tau, a national aerospace society. He is currently a member of the Engineering Advisory Committee to Mississippi State University and the Technical Advisory Committee to Mississippi Energy Resource and Development Committee.

A resident of Picayune, Estess is involved in a number of civic and church activities. He was named citizen of the year in Picayune in 1974. He has been a scoutmaster for 12 years and is currently on the Executive Council of the Pine Burr Council of Boy Scouts.

Estess and his wife, Zann, are both natives of Tylertown. They have two children, Stephen, a student at Mississippi State University and a daughter, Mauri, a student at Picayune High School.

A narrow escape at Hancock jail

Thursday's fire at the Hancock jail could have been a disaster for the county.

Quick action by Sheriff Ronald Peterson and trustee Harold Goines, who helped in unlocking the prisoners from their cells, saved many lives.

The toxic smoke could have killed all the prisoners if they had not been so quickly released. Even with the fast action to get them out of the cells, five had to be treated at Hancock General for smoke inhalation.

We also understand that prisoner Kimmie Johnston grabbed a fire extinguisher and went to work trying to control the fire before the many fire departments arrived at the scene.

The need of a modern jail to replace our obsolete facility is very much emphasized through Thursday's incident.

We realize that prisoners should not be confined in a 'Hilton,' but they are human beings, after not yet convicted, and should at least be kept in a safe place.

We do realize that the possibility of the old jail burning to the ground is slim because of the concrete and steel, but many could have been killed by the toxic smoke from the burning mattress.

Everyone should be commended on the fine job, and response by all the police, firemen, Mobile Medic, and volunteers who were at the courthouse in only seconds.

We also want to commend Chancery Clerk Mike Necaise for his humanitarian concern for a prisoner, unconscious and overcome by smoke. Necaise saw to it the man got oxygen immediately, a move which surely contributed significantly to the prisoner's recovery.

Refreshments served by the Red Cross, a new service, were appreciated by those working on the scene.

JUNGLE TRAIL!—This pedestrian is trying to find his way through a 'jungle' on a sidewalk in the center of Bay St. Louis on Gex Street. We do not know who is responsible, whether the property owners, City of Bay St. Louis or Hancock County; but it seems a pedestrian should be able to walk down the sidewalk opposite the County Courthouse without having to step into the street.

TOWARD ECONOMIC PROGRESS

Average incomes in Mississippi increased 10.5 percent during 1979—a respectable increase that should be a sign of progress for the state.

But, the extent of this "progress" can only be determined by comparing Mississippi's increase with increases in other states. Figures released by the Commerce Department reveal that, while incomes averaged a 10.5 percent increase in Mississippi, the national average increase was 11.0 percent, and the Southeastern Region's average increase was 11.4 percent.

These figures show that while Mississippi incomes are increasing, the gap between the state and the rest of the nation is widening.

The largest association of business and professional leadership in the state, the Mississippi Economic Council, urges public officials and administrators to make the state's economic advancement a primary challenge and a paramount goal in coming years.

MEC, which has dedicated a major portion of its energies and resources to the state's economic advancement, believes that no single action or individual decision can provide the necessary changes.

The Council believes that the state can move off the bottom of the economic ladder and suggests several steps that should be taken to encourage this climb:

- Organizing an alliance among the southern states to preserve the region's federally based economic incentives.
- Maintaining and protecting the state's favorable business "climate" proclaimed as the best in the nation by a national accounting firm survey.
- Creating within the office of the governor a cabinet-level position of senior economic advisor.

- Improving and protecting the professional stature of the state's industrial development agency and its work.

- Encouraging the development of small, home-owned businesses.
- Improving Mississippians' level of education, concentrating on the development of basic skills in the elementary grades.

The MEC recommendations present a foundation from which to work, but the concerted efforts of all Mississippians will be required if the state is to break the barriers to economic advancement and show real economic progress.

Washington report

DEALING WITH IRANIAN PROTESTERS
By CONGRESSMAN TRENT LOTT

Like million of other Americans, I watched with dismay as pro-Khomeini Iranian demonstrators in Washington clashed with other groups and the police. A total of 192 were arrested, charged with disorderly conduct and taken to jail in New York for five days.

Because they would not identify themselves, these rowdies were detained by the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS). When they did give their names, they were released, and most returned to Washington to participate in a hunger strike.

Under U.S. law as it stands today, the INS says its only action is to verify the validity of the Iranians' visas and, if proper, the aliens go their merry way. That, of course means continued protests against and mockery of the U.S.

These aliens enjoy freedom of speech which is denied to the 52 American citizens held hostages now for more than 300 days in Iran.

One question I was asked in Mississippi during the August district work period was this: "Why can't these aliens be deported?" The INS believes some 70,000 Iranian students are in this country and 6,236 face deportation proceedings.

Americans have been outraged by the actions of the Islamic militants, from the violent demonstrations to the hunger strike. And, salt is rubbed into the wound every time a pro-Khomeini Iranian raises a clenched fist in protest standing on American soil.

Americans have been patient, but the humiliations have not ended, because we find ourselves hamstringing in trying to control a group of fanatics. We must find a solution, but it is made more difficult by the very freedoms extended to American citizens and foreign nationals in this country.

Freedom of speech, for example, has been a fundamental right in this country since the beginning. It has survived the tests of a thousand demonstrations, protests and the shouting matches from every imaginable group.

But there may be an answer to our present problem with the militant Iranians. The American Sovereignty Protection Act has been introduced in the House and Senate as a response to the situation.

The legislation builds on a 1798 law to give the President legal power to define Iranian trouble-makers as "enemy aliens," who could then be deported.

Since this problem does involve important questions, I think Congress must give the legislation careful consideration. The government needs the legal means to expel aliens who threaten civil order.

Bits 'n pieces

We are always hearing stories about your youth doing this bad thing, destroying this, and doing something we think is uncalled for as adults.

Well, this is not always the case. Youth, maybe not all of them, but many make us want to leap for joy - especially the deed done by two a couple of weeks ago.

Col. Robert Bowers, who is in charge of the construction of the ammunition plant at NSTL resides in Picayune.

He called to tell us how he and his family came down to our sand beach to enjoy some of our recreation. The Bowers family resides in Picayune, and as all of you know they just do not have the God given recreation like we have, especially the waters of the Gulf at our door step.

While parked on the shoulder of the beach, the colonel's car became stuck in the soft sand and these two young men came along and tried to help him and his family get out but were unable to do so by hand.

One of them said, "We will be back in a few minutes," and they returned with a truck and chain and pulled the vehicle out of the sand.

Before Col. Bowers could say thanks, the two youth were on their way. Col. Bowers expressed his appreciation to us and we thought you would like to know.

We noticed early Friday morning several workers collecting empty containers and trash along our downtown beach front in Bay St. Louis.

We are glad to see the cleanup of the area for the long weekend of Labor Day.

We have noticed a tendency of more and more empty glass beer bottles being thrown along our downtown beach front in recent weeks.

It seems to us that persons drinking beer, or whatever their taste buds desire could properly dispose of containers when empty.

It costs them, as well as all of us, to have to pay people to collect their trash, and it makes us as a community look like a bunch of hogs.

A reminder for you not to forget the big fireworks display on Beach Boulevard by the Garfield Memorial pier tonight at 8:30 p.m.

We hope you can make it and take in the big bang courtesy of the Waveland Civic Association and City of Waveland.

We have to offer special congratulations to Judy McKinney on winning the Adam's Cup Women's North American Sailing Championship last Sunday.

Dennis Stieffel, also from the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, last week finished second in the Sears Cup finals of the United States Junior Sailing Championship at Cleveland Yacht club and won the Runner-Up Crew in that series.

Ms. McKenny and her crew of Amy Chapman and Charlotte Gordon, defeated six other Adam's Cup finalist crewed by the best women sailors in the nation on Lake Ponchartrain.

We think it is really great for the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club to have two national champions this year.

Stieffel, a junior at Stanislaus, and his crew of Janet Gordon and Ford Gaudin, is another case showing that youth can do good things for a community.

The recent renovation of several buildings in downtown Bay St. Louis has caused a lot of interest in some of the older landmarks.

We understand over 600 buildings in Bay St. Louis which are 50 years or older have been recorded by the Department of the Interior, so there are a lot of old buildings.

Wednesday night, Lloyd Ostby, Architectural Historian with the Mississippi Department of Archives and History will be a special guest in Bay St. Louis. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Ostby will be at the American Legion Home on Green Meadow Road, and the public is invited to a film titled 'Main Streets U. S. A.'

The Hancock County Historical Society would like to invite everyone to hear this outstanding speaker and view this very important film. Admission is free.

Airport's roving DC-4 a commission quandary

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission is in a quandary regarding a DC-4 airplane which has been parked in various locations at Stennis International Airport for more than two years.

Cris Hall of Waveland appeared at a Thursday night meeting to discuss purchasing the aircraft for scrap metal.

However, Director W. Wilson Webre reported that Air International, owners of the plane, owes the commission some $1,800 in airport parking fees for the DC-4.

The ill-fated aircraft has had a colorful history at Stennis airport.

More than two years ago the plane was confiscated by the federal government in a narcotics seizure and was parked at the northern airport apron for several months.

The plane was sold over a year ago, but when the owners attempted to move the plane before Hurricane Frederick struck the Coast, an apparent mechanical failure caused the plane to run off the apron into a ditch.

Then the plane was later pulled from the ditch and brought to the south airport apron in front of the airport administration building for repairs.

While repairs were underway, a tornado raked the airport in April and lifted the plane several hundred yards northeast across a deep ditch and set the aircraft back down on its wheels, but the DC-4 sustained additional and apparently fatal damages.

Hall told the commissioners Thursday night, "All I want to do it cut the plane up."

Webre replied, "You would have to get title to the plane and you would have to assume its rent."

CHRIS HALL

Commissioner Victor Franckiewicz stated, "If you take over the plane you take over liability."

Commissioner Fred Curet said to Webre, "You could advertise and take the plane."

Webre explained, "We would have to seize the plane and advertise it for sale."

"We're sympathetic to what you want to do," Webre said to Hall.

"We have a landlord's claim on the plane," Webre added.

The commission director thought it premature to negotiate sale of the DC-

4 and reported the owners of the aircraft had already stripped engines and usable equipment from the plane.

Commission Attorney Robert Genin told Webre, "You shouldn't have let them take the engines."

Commissioner Dave McDonald explained, "When you have something of somebody else's on your land and they owe you money, you padlock it and if they break the lock to get to it you can take action against them."

Genin suggested, "We ought to tell the owners we should get the title or we can file suit and get a judgement."

"He'll (Hall) get a title next week and we'll get rid of the thing," Genin said.

"If he wants to buy it, let him buy it," he added.

The board then retreated into executive session and met with Hall for some 30 minutes.

After the executive session Webre reported he tried unsuccessfully to telephone Air International officials, that no action was taken and the purpose of the meeting was to negotiate with Hall.

Regarding repairs to the Stennis airport hanger building's roof, the commission accepted a $12,000 settlement offered by Charles Hoffman of Audobon Insurance Co. of Baton Rouge representing Truett Insurance Co. of Bay St. Louis.

Commission President James DeBlanc stated, "The settlement includes $800 for an electric water pump motor which was also destroyed in the storm."

Genin explained the final settlement is for roof replacement value less depreciation.

The board also passed a resolution accepting a policy holder's release for damages at the airport.

HNC parent criticizes school board, teachers

By RICH ADAMS
A Hancock North Central parent verbally attacked Hancock North Central math teacher and basketball coach Roland Ladner after criticizing the Hancock County School Board for not offering incentive to 'good teachers.'

Danny Hamby, a 1964 graduate of Hancock North Central, concluded his address to the board by questioning Ladner's abilities as a teacher, and taking issue with the board's meeting procedures.

"Mr. (Mouval) Cieves just said you conduct meetings as a big business. It is obvious you have never attended a business board meeting," Hamby told the school board Friday.

"You always jump from subject to subject without resolving the issue you are discussing," he continued.

"Hancock North Central is very short of teachers right now, and you are not doing anything to find qualified teachers. I propose the principals of each school prepare fitness reports on each teacher twice a year," he told the board.

"I know the school board does not have much money, but teachers would appreciate anything the school system could do, even if it only were to offer a $5 bonus at the end of the year," Hamby offered.

"All you retain now are mediocre teachers," he added prior to his attack on Ladner.

Board President Woodrow Ladner interrupted Hamby just as Board Member Oris Ladner began to speak in a perturbed tone of voice, the board president telling Hamby to follow the chain of command concerning grievances against teachers.

"I hate to discuss personalities at a board meeting. If you have a complaint go to the principal of the respective school. If he cannot resolve the problem, come to (Superintendent) Billy Sills, and if he cannot answer your question, I will notify the board," Woodrow Ladner said.

"Coach Ladner is an employee of the school district, and until he is not, I will take every measure to protect him," the board president added.

Hamby said he understands Woodrow Ladner standing up for Roland Ladner, adding, "You should try your best to keep good teachers, but you just accept their resignations."

"Some teachers are instructing second generation students, like my children. If anyone has a right to complain my wife and I do. We know, because we were students under some of those same teachers," Hamby said.

Woodrow Ladner explained that a law called the Fair Dismissal Act requires strict documentation before a school district may fire a teacher.

"That act, at no intent of the legislature, protects teachers you or I may consider incompetent," Woodrow Ladner told Hamby.

"The state legislature has reacted with an accountability law which will require teachers to prove their knowledge each year," he added.

"What good will that do for seniors at Hancock North Central this year if they don't learn math and they go to college unprepared," Hamby asked.

"Besides the accountability law, there are other ways in which to turn a teacher out, like making life unlivable for the teacher and forcing a resignation," he continued.

"A few years ago I was reading where Mississippi is at the bottom of the totem pole in national education standards. In the state, Hancock County was at the bottom. Every man in this room should bow his head in shame and cry," Hamby added.

Board Member Louie Ladner asked for documentation of those facts, and Hamby said he will produce the statistics.

Also at Friday's meeting, parents of fifth-grade children attending the Clermont Harbor Elementary School due to lack of classrooms at Gulfview Elementary asked the board when the overcrowdedness will be corrected.

"When will our fifth-graders be allowed to attend Gulfview since they have been shoved to the old Clermont Harbor School," one parent asked the board.

Parents claim the children at Clermont Harbor, where four classrooms have been renovated for use, are being discriminated against.

Woodrow Ladner promised the parents the problem will be alleviated "as soon as possible."

"We hope in the not too distant future to have a new school within the Gulfview area," Ladner said, refusing to comment whether he is referring to another school bond election.

"At Hancock North Central we are using bookrooms, gyms, anywhere that we can put students for a class. We will correct the problem at Gulfview as soon as we can," Ladner added.

"We know if we give you an inch you will take a mile," one parent commented.

Sills revealed 67 students are in two classrooms at Gulfview because of a teacher shortage, violating the legal 28-student maximum.

Sills added all students at Clermont Harbor are receiving the required 5.5 hours of instruction.

The board will meet again Tuesday at 6 p.m.

BUDDY HOLLY — More than 20 years have passed since '50's pioneer rock 'n' roll artist Charles Hardin "Buddy" Holly was killed in a plane crash following a musical performance in Clear Lake, Iowa. What has happened in the lives of the people closest to him and some reasons for the intensity of his continuing popularity 20 years later are examined in "Buddy Holly: Reminiscing" at 8 p.m., Monday, September 1, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

Headstart registration continues

Headstart centers in Hancock county will continue registration between 7:30 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. Monday through Friday for the current term through Wednesday, Sept. 10.

Mississippi Action For Progress, Inc., parent Agency for Headstart programs in the state, said the three centers here will conduct food programs during the term.

"All meals served to enrolled children will be free," said Linda Lather of Picaune, MAP area director.

The three centers in Hancock County are Bay-Waveland at the St. Rose campus of Bay Catholic Elementary School in Bay St. Louis; Mt. Zion in Pearlinton; and Catahoula in the Catahoula Community.

Sullivan Bell, director of the Bay-Waveland Center, said his program is in need of an assistant cook and a teacher's aide.

Both positions require high school education or equivalent, he added. For information, call Bell at 487-7041.

All centers will conduct special late registration hours from 7:30 a. m. to 7 p. m. Thursday and Friday, Sept. 11 and 12, Lather reported.

Lather said information on the Pearlinton and Catahoula programs may be obtained by calling her office in Picaune, 796-6981.

Board Attorney Joseph Gex stated that if the repairs were part of an original contract, the board could make the payment.

But Gex later stated since some of the work was not mentioned in the agreement, the board should not have to pay the $5,000.

On a roll call vote, Louie Ladner, Oris Ladner, and Woodrow Ladner approved payment of the bill. Cuevas and Johnny Banks voted against payment.

"Ninety-nine percent of the repairs were tornado related, otherwise I also take the stand Mr. Cuevas has taken about not paying bills prior to school board approval," Woodrow Ladner said.

In other business Friday, the board discussed rental and possible purchase of five mobile classrooms from the Jackson County School District at a cost of $1 per year rental with the option to purchase the trailers for $1 apiece at the end of three years.

Sills said insurance, labor, permits, and equipment rental to move the trailers to Hancock North Central would cost some $8,320.

Louie Ladner moved to advertise for bids from house movers to see if the job could be completed for less money.

Also Friday, Sills reported enrollment in county schools is down 47 students from last year.

The initial report in the first month of school is 211 students at Gulfview Elementary, a minor decrease; 416 at Charles B. Murphy, an increase of seven from last year; 519 at HNC elementary, and 875 at HNC Junior and Senior High Schools.

Sills reported that the average daily attendance, the attendance figures used in figuring state and federal allotments, will not be available until next month.

MRS. DAVID EDMOND WILLIAMS

Williams, Ulrich wed in St. Paul's ceremony

St. Paul's Catholic Church in Pass Christian was the setting for the Saturday, August 16 marriage of Diana Lynn Ulrich and David Edmond Williams, both of Pass Christian.

The Rev. Frank Scott officiated at the 3 p.m. ceremony. Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Mary Niolet, organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ulrich (the former Irma Jane Santinelli) and the groom is the son of Mrs. Bernice Sheffield and the late Kenneth Williams Sr., all of Pass Christian.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a bouffant gown of silk sheer organza over bridal taffeta fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline and a double Bishop over fitted sleeves trimmed with seed pearls. The skirt front, an A-line panel was sprinkled in appliques of lace and seed pearls, while the cathedral length train featured layers of ruffles trimmed in bands of lace and satin ribbon. A matching cap of lace held a scalloped fingertip veil of bridal illusion trimmed in seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of daisies interspersed with baby's breath.

Polly Necaise attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Jimmie Ruth Ulrich, sister-in-law of the bride, Lynn Jamison, and Sheryl Marie Little. Charlotte Fayard, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

Raymond Williams served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Jack Ulrich Jr., brother of the bride, Dale Moran and Mac Bowes. Gary Ulrich, brother of the bride was ring bearer.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the VFW in Pass Christian. After a wedding trip to Tennessee, the couple will reside in Long Beach.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. John E. Ridgley of Cedar Point celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary August 27 with a renewal of vows in a Nuptial Mass at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. On Sunday, August 24 the couple was honored with a reception at St. Joseph's Hall in New Orleans. Attending were five sons and their wives, two daughters and their husbands, twenty grandchildren, two great-grandchildren, relatives and friends.

Thrift is difference between success and failure

By S. GRADY THIGPEN

Thrift is not hoarding or stinginess.

Thrift means saving, being economical, but spending wisely for what is needed.

Thrift means good management and wise spending of money, of time, of energy, of credit, of friends.

Thrift means buying a tool that will enable you to do more work at less expense. Thrift means taking the short cut that will allow you to get more work done.

Thrift means making the best use of your time and your energies so as to enable you to get more of the things you need. An accurate definition of thrift is: Wise management.

A thrifty man will buy a refrigerator to preserve his food because the Frigidaire will be worth much more than the cost over a period of time. The thrifty woman will buy a washing machine because the washing machine will save her from so much hard work and give her much more time for other things.

Thrift means investing your money so that you will get good returns on it. Saving is an essential part of thrift for without saving part of what is earned there will be no money to invest.

Fortunate is the child that is reared in a home where saving and thrift are practiced. The Proverbs says, "He that gathereth in summer is a wise son; but he that sleeth in the harvest is a son that causeth shame."

The baby reaches for the Moon; he soon learns it is out of reach. We start out in life inexperienced; we like the baby make many mistakes. With the help of wise parents, we profit from these mistakes; we become thrifty. If we are to achieve any success in this life.

Thrift and saving are so important to the future of any young person that no success in any endeavor can be achieved to any substantial degree without these essential qualities. Now, that is a broad statement but unless the pastor, or the doctor, or the teacher, or the banker, or anyone else for that matter, can manage his financial affairs properly—unless he is thrifty—he can have no success in his chosen calling or business.

Unless he pays his bills, he loses the respect of everybody. Unless he manages his personal affairs in a more or less thrifty way, he sets up obstructions to his success that are almost insurmountable.

The finest Cadillac car is worthless unless it has tires on it. The best education a person can get is not worth much to him unless he practices thrift. Just as it takes tires to make the car go, it takes thrift to make a personal success.

Thrift also means adapting one's self to conditions. If the weather changes we do not wall and bowl over the weather; we take off or put on more clothes and go ahead.

If business conditions change, the thrifty person adapts himself to these changes; he adds on more help or reduces help as demand indicates. He cuts expenses in his home if it is necessary to do so to keep in good financial condition.

Changing conditions is nothing new. All the way down through history, we find that conditions have changed all along; in fact change is one of the great facts of history.

If prices on what we have for sale, whether it be our labor or products produced on the farm, go down and our income is reduced, the thrifty man will immediately do something about it.

He can cut expenses or he can increase his production, or he can become more skilled at whatever he is doing so that he can command more for his labor.

The great aim of education is to enable one to better adapt himself to changing conditions and be worth more, to earn more.

The thrifty person recognizes that change is inevitable and he moves to adapt himself to the new conditions.

A man thrifty in his business, modernizes his store, used trucks instead of wagons to make deliveries; he gets the things to sell in his store; he sells electric refrigerators instead of trying to sell the old fashioned ice boxes, he sells the new electric ranges instead of keeping in stock wood stoves like he did 40 and more years ago.

The thrifty farmer does much more work with his modern equipment instead of using the old one horse plow as he did 40 years ago; he has good stock on his place instead of the razor back hogs and woods cattle of the old days.

The thrifty man handles his affairs to the best advantage. I believe that the teaching of thrift or good management should be made compulsory in every public school from the primary grade on up through college.

I believe that thrift is the most important subject that can be taught in a school. I believe that thrift is so important because the worth of everything else a child can learn depends to such an extent on thrift.

A person can be highly educated and have all kinds of degrees and yet be a complete failure unless he has learned the value of thrift.

Some 100 men who were healthy at 25 years of age were traced down through the years to 65 years of age.

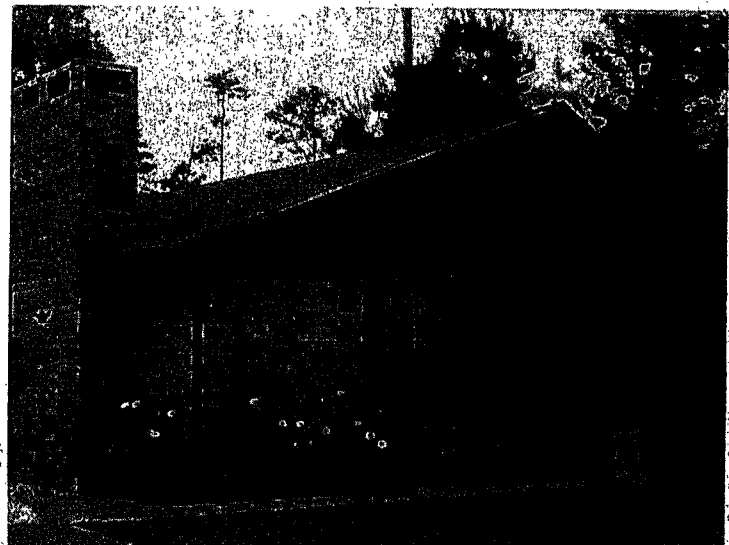

These 100 men all had practically the same chance for success in life. The difference in these men lay in the way these men practiced thrift.

Out of this 100 men at 65, 84 were living on pensions, welfare or charity without any substantial means of support of their own.

The other 16 through the practice of thrift which means through the use of good management—had means of their own.

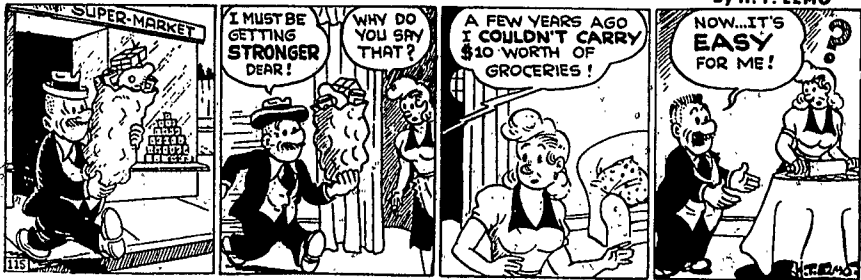

The difference between the successful and the unsuccessful person is not so much a matter of training or equipment. It is not a question of opportunity or luck. It is in the way they manage their affairs. It is largely a matter of whether or not they practice thrift.

I repeat, I believe the principles of thrift should be taught in all schools from the primary grades through college.

DOES A SOLID BLOCK OF ICE WEIGH MORE THAN AN EQUAL BULK OF WATER?

THE ICE WEIGHS LESS THAN THE WATER! WITH A VOLUME OF WATER WEIGHING 1000 LBS., ICE OF EQUAL VOLUME WILL WEIGH ONLY 917 LBS.

HOW DID THE WORD "TARIFF" ORIGINATE?

IT STEMS FROM "TARIFA" ON THE BARBARY COAST, NORTH AFRICA, WHERE ALL SHIPS HAD TO PAY TRIBUTE TO PASS! BUT THE YOUNG GROWING U.S.A. PUT AN END TO THIS PIRACY IN 1815!

WHERE DO FLIES GO IN THE WINTER?

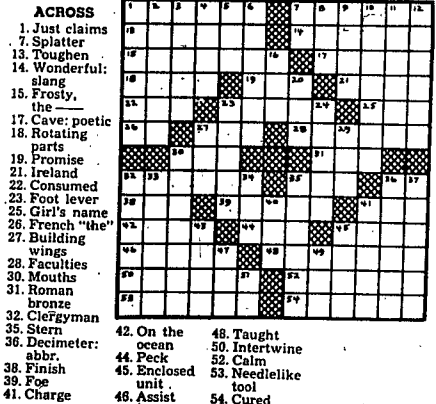

THE LIFETIME OF A HOUSEFLY IS ONLY SEVERAL WEEKS AND IT DIES LONG BEFORE WINTER! COLD WEATHER IS FATAL TO FLIES AND NONE SURVIVE FROM FALL TO SPRING!

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN BOUILLON AND CONSOMME SOUPS?

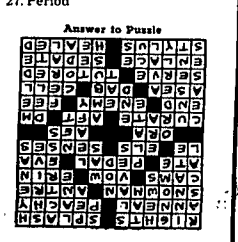

BOUILLON CONSISTS OF A MEAT BROTH ONLY; CONSOMME IS DERIVED FROM VEGETABLE JUICES!

BOATING TOPICS

FUN ON THE BEACH

Are local bathing beaches becoming too crowded for your taste? If you own a boat the answer is obvious.

If you don't own a boat, maybe you should start thinking of getting one.

Consider an outboard-powered canoe, a john boat or an inflatable boat. Such craft are modest in price, easy to operate and a cinch to store.

Yet they are quite capable of taking people to delightful places for picnics and relaxation far from the crowds.

If you get a smaller craft, the capacity plate affixed to it will tell you how much of a load you should carry under normal good boating conditions.

Although your boat will take you to any section of the shoreline, the Mercury outboard boating authorities warn you to avoid private property.

Nothing takes the joy out of a beach party faster than the sudden appearance of a disgruntled property owner.

Ask people around the launching ramp or at the marina for advice on what beaches are open to the boating public.

Also, remember that permits are required for beach fires in some locations.

Waterfront boat and bait shops can tell you, or you can find out by calling the local fire department.

A bag of charcoal briquets will make a clean, hot fire with no time taken out hunting for wood.

At the end of a memorable day on the beach, remember to douse your fire, bury the ashes, and clean up your beverage containers and paper plates, leaving the place as inviting for the next group of boat lovers as it was for you.

Refreshing Apricot Salads

Celebrate summer with refreshing apricot salads. California apricots, other canned and fresh fruits and cottage cheese make these individual salads convenient, tempting and nutritious too!

INDIVIDUAL
APRICOT SALADS
(Makes 6 servings)

1 can (30-oz.) apricot halves, liquid reserved
1 can (30-oz.) pear halves, drained
1 large red apple, unpeeled
1 pound grapes in season, in small clusters
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon ground coriander
1/4 cup orange juice
1 teaspoon poppy seeds, optional
3 cups creamed cottage cheese
Lemon juice

Keep fruit chilled until serving time. For salad dressing, combine cornstarch, sugar and coriander in small saucepan. Blend in syrup drained from apricots (about 1/2 cups) and orange juice. Bring to boil. Reduce heat; simmer 1 minute, stirring constantly. Stir in poppy seeds. Cool; chill until serving time.

To serve, place 1/2 cup cottage cheese in center of each of 6 serving plates. Cut apple into slices; dip in lemon juice. Arrange apple slices, drained apricot and pear halves and grape clusters around cottage cheese. Serve with salad dressing.

nobody has to play both ways," he continued. "Last year we had to have eight or nine players go both ways throughout the game," Smith added.

"This year I have not been able to tell how many players will have to go both ways. All the players will have to be in tip-top shape so they may last four quarters," he stated.

"At this point the players are responding well to conditioning," Smith added.

Smith feels community and school support is essential in order to have a winning team, and is faced with a question of which comes first—the chicken or the egg.

"Spirit is important, conditioning backing from the student body and the community. The backing has improved somewhat, but we still do not have 100 percent from the supporters," the head coach said.

"If we have the backing and enthusiasm of a crowd which believes we can win, we can defeat other teams, and we need that support in order to win ballgames," he continued.

"If an athlete sees that support, he will begin believing in himself. It is sort of a question of which comes first—the chicken or the egg," he added.

"With our 4-5 record of last year, we will not get the same enthusiasm as we would if we were a team which won all 10 games. I hope to see enthusiasm to the point where we remain empty in Tiger Stadium," Smith said.

Starting at quarterback is Mark Toler, a sophomore from Purvis. Back up signal callers are Tim Holmes of New Orleans, La., and Lance Larson of Oak Grove.

"Toler is the number one signal caller, but Lance and Tommy are doing a fine job," Arben said.

"We have a host of talented runners in our backfield. None are really big, but they are strong and have quick moves," he continued.

"Denise Nelson of Hancock North Central, a starting tailback for the PRJC squad last year, does an outstanding job, but he will probably be needed as a starter at the cornerback slot," the head coach explained.

"We will have starter Randall Collette of Cecilia, La., at the tailback position this year, and right behind him will be Hollis Payton of West Marion and A.P. Patterson of Pizayune," he added.

"I am not going to be overconfident, but I can guarantee we will have a very competitive and representative team this season," Arben concluded.

good shape. Our depth is also better than last year," Jones said of his 87-member squad.

"This year the Rocks face reconstruction of its offensive backfield with the loss of runningbacks Scott Semmer and Keith Pfister and quarterback Gary Sodak, all to graduation.

Leading quarterback candidates this year are Joe Ger, Brian Logan, and Mark Schultz, according to Jones.

Potential starting runningbacks are Mike Hourin, Shaun Logan, Andy Melvin, Craig Reed, Tommy Haas, Mark Tuire, David Boos, Charlie Richards, and Mike Prudegast, according to the head coach.

"We have more versatility and speed in the backfield this year. From what I saw in the Spring Jamboree and the work we have done here, we should be respectable," Jones said.

"Our total size is average, but is still a bit smaller than last year," the SSC taskmaster explained.

"Last season we had problems with inconsistency on the offense. Although we have not played any games

"The fastest a player has completed this was Lloyd Henry, running the course in 6:30 minutes," the coach continued.

"Then the players work out on the weights, and they are in and out of here within 40 minutes. They are back on the field at 5 p.m. for two hours of offensive and defensive drills," Favre explained.

"If the kids do not enjoy working out, they will not come back for evening practice. I could work them until they are dead, but I want them to enjoy a sport," he added.

The Hawks were slated to open their regular season Sept. 5 hosting Our Lady of Victory, but OLV was unable to muster a team and the game was cancelled.

Instead, Coach Favre set up a last minute contest against McLean High School, located just above Hattiesburg, for the opening home game Sept. 5. Kickoff at Hawk Stadium is at 7:30 p.m.

Tiger head coach stresses faith in winning

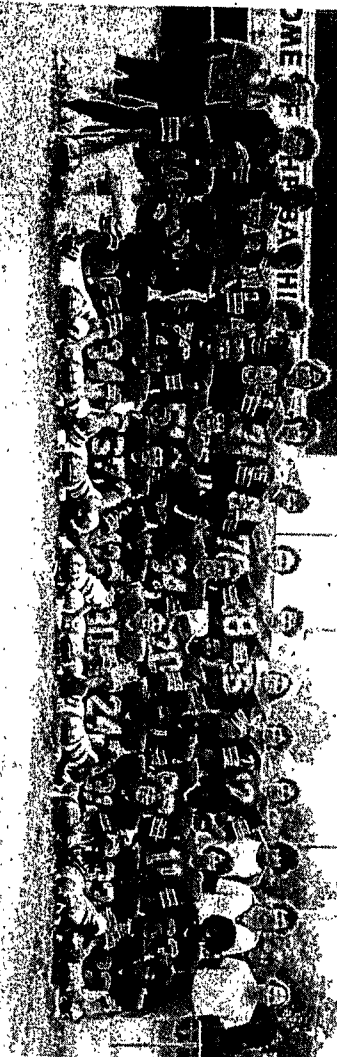

By RICH ADAMS
Sports Editor

Last year, Smith's maiden season as skipper of the Tigers, the Bay High eleven recorded the best win-loss record in six years utilizing Smith's self-proclaimed philosophy, "I am still learning, but I am still believing in my ability to perform on an ability to believe in winning. If we believe we will win, we can overcome those barriers," he added.

"If we believe we can do it, we are going to win some battles," the Tiger task-master said.

LET THE ROAD-TO-1980 edition of the Bay High Tiger get down again. Smith, the head coach, is back in the saddle, and the Tigers are ready to take on the 1980 season. Smith, who coached the Tigers for two years, is back in the saddle, and the Tigers are ready to take on the 1980 season.

and depth this year, as they did last year, but Smith said the team's overall attitude is much better than last year. "Our organization, attitude, enthusiasm, dedication, and overall characteristics are improved over that of last year's team at the same period of the season," Smith said.

"Attitude-wise I am well pleased for this period of the season," he added.

"I am not taking anything away from last year's squad, but last year the team was not as mentally prepared as we are today," he said during the morning practice session.

Smith said the Bay squad has two major obstacles to overcome this season, a lack of experience and depth and inexperienced quarterbacks.

"We have the same major problems this year as we did last year. We do not have enough depth to prepare for injuries and substitutions during the game," the Tiger head coach said.

"A lot of teams have enough players to form two platoons on both offense and defense, so

PRJC squad eyes match against Delta Trojans

Grueling two-day practices are over for the 1980 edition of the Pearl River Junior College Wildcats, and J.C. Arban and his staff are now concentrating on timing, putting in more plays, and getting ready for the game against the Mississippi Delta Trojans Thursday.

The week-long endurance test, however, did take its toll on the "weak-willed" and undisciplined souls," according to Arban.

On Aug. 17, 74 Wildcats attended camp, but less than a week later, the elite number of gridders specialists had been trimmed to 64.

Not making it around long enough for team pictures were David Murtagh of Bay St. Louis, a 1980 graduate of St. Stanislaus; Jacob Asby, a quarterback candidate from Baton Rouge, La.; tackles Steve Letet and Glenn Toups, both of Thibodaux, La.; center Steve Cook from Oak Grove; Bay Charles Oatis, center, from Columbia; and defensive end France McVair of Petal.

"We had some walk-ons to drop from practice," Arban said, "but the men I just mentioned would have all seen a good bit of playing time. Those who did remain received a real Saturday in the form of a morning of pictures and an afternoon of full-scale scrimmage--and the news of no practice Sunday."

Pirates rely on team effort against tough opponents

By RICH ADAMS
Sports Editor

Pearl River Pirates Head Coach Bob Lumpkin is "optimistic" about the progress his eleven squad has made during Fall training and is looking for a good team effort during regular season this year.

A good team effort will be needed at the onset of the season as the Pirates open against last year's surprise team, Vandaveine, and then hot monster-man O'Brien.

"We have a tough schedule. We play two teams which are ranked very high in the Pasquotanna River Conference in the first three games," Lumpkin said.

The Pirates also face Monticello, a team which eked out a 13-12 victory over the Pass eleven last year.

The Pass crew faces St. Martin on the Yellow Jackets' home turf, then hosts Harrison Central for Homecoming.

"How that ever happened I'll never know," Lumpkin commented.

The Pirates then host St. Stanislaus and Long Beach, and end the season at Hancock North Central, an annual rivalry.

Lumpkin's eleven, plagued with "butterfingers" last year, are working on basic fundamentals this year in an attempt to eliminate the high percentage of fumbles.

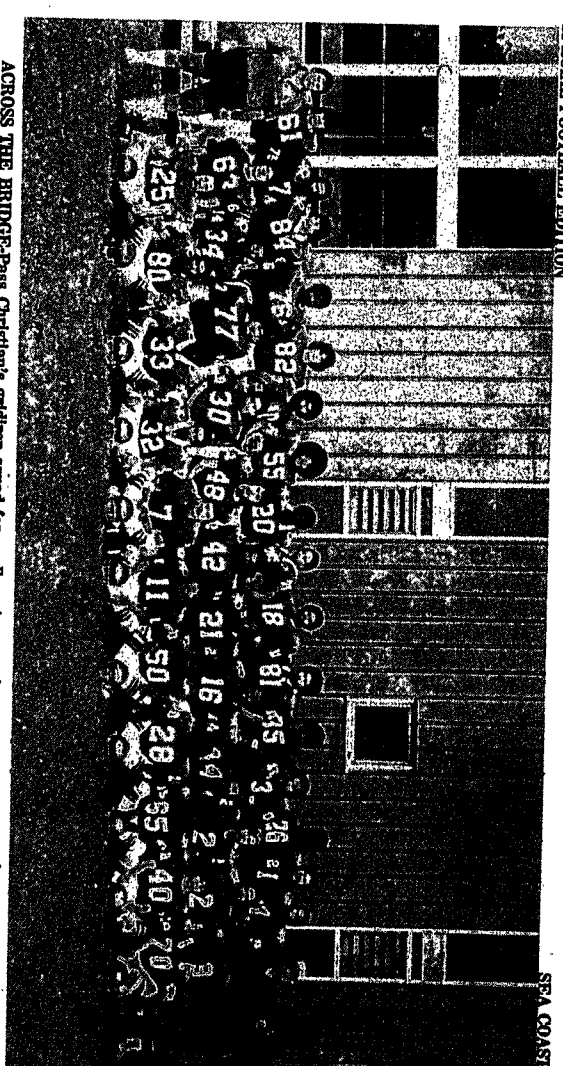

The major hurdle for the Pirates to overcome, however, is the loss of star runningback Gene Lang, who begins his freshman year at LSU this year.

Rock-A-Chaws face

'toughest schedule ever'

By RICH ADAMS
Sports Editor

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws, winners of the 1978 Spring Football Jamboree, face the "toughest schedule we have ever had" as they go against two quad-A Louisiana squads and such area giants as O'Herveyville, St. Martin, and Vanclave.

The local scene is in SSC's advantage as they host Bay High and Hancock North Central at home.

"This is the toughest schedule we have ever had, and we have to be ready for it," said head coach Barry Jones.

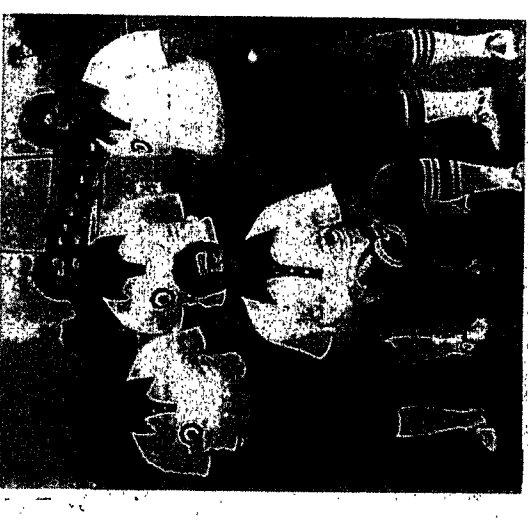

Vanclave all are very strong contenders. I understand Vanclave did not lose any players through graduation," Jones said.

"Pass Christian is always in the thick of things, and Bay High was strong during the last part of the 1979 season," he added.

The 1979 Hancock County Champion Rock-A-Chaws are "in a better position than last year at this point of the season," according to Jones.

"We had a good off-season program, I know the personnel better, and I feel our defensive squad will be a key factor in our game plan this year," the Rock skipper said.

"We have a fairly solid defense with nine of 11 players returning. Barring a rash of injuries, I feel we will be in

The Hancock North Central Hawks, winners of last year's Wendell Lader Bowl, are starting this season prepared as more than half the starting offensive and defensive teams have logged experience, according to Head Coach Irvin Favre.

Favre is banking on returning quarterback Bobby Devaughn and runningback Lloyd Henry to provide the offensive thrust, citing Devaughn as "the best quarterback I have ever coached."

"Six of the seven offensive linemen have experience. Eight of the 11 defensive players have played before, and two of the four offensive backs have experience," Favre said in a recent interview.

"The main thing we lack is depth, just like last year. A lot of the players are going both ways, and if any get hurt, we will be hurting," he continued.

"We have all the experience we need. If these athletes do not win, I'll probably kill them," Favre said.

The Hawk taskmaster said his offensive backfield is "the best in the state," citing Henry for his running ability and Devaughn for his overall mastery of the game.

Devaughn and Henry are the best I have ever coached. They are good ballplayers and do well academically," Favre said.

"I plan on having Devaughn put the ball in the air more this year. He is the best quarterback I have ever had going into a season," he continued.

"Ted Williams, a past quarterback, ran 866 yards in one season but could not throw the ball. Vincent Adams was a fine player, but did not represent a big threat to the opposition," the head coach explained.

explained.

"Devaughn can both run and pass. He is a big threat to the opposition," Favre added.

Last year Devaughn put the ball in the air often, but the receivers seemed unable to hang on to the Hawk aerials.

Favre said Harry Henry will be starting at split end this year, in addition to other receivers such as Favon Hoda, Kent Deschamps, and Lloyd Henry.

"They all have good hands," Favre said.

The Hawks were plagued with penalties in key situations during the 1979 season, a habit which Favre says he hopes his players have dropped.

"We had a few boys who just played too dirty and drew penalties. We still have two of those players on the club, but I hope they have matured enough to control themselves," Favre said.

"We made more than our share of penalties, but I think we were just too aggressive in pre-season training this year, offering the players a program they could enjoy.

In the morning we run an obstacle course, consisting of running the bleachers, going through a tire set, running through dummies, hitting a sled, and sprinting," Favre said.

SIDELINE SYNOPSIS

4SEA COAST EXPO, SUNDAY, AUGUST 21, 1989

SPECIAL FOOTBALL EDITION

What do you have in the next few weeks, cheerleaders, athletes' foot, pads, knickerbockers, freshly-painted bleachers, freshly-painted lockers, new grid markers, Tigers, Pirates, Hawks, and Rock-A-Chows all have in common? Football. That one word sends thoughts of school spirit and Friday nights through the minds of high school students.

The nation is excited for the start of the 1989-90 football season in the next few weeks, and Hancock County residents are looking forward to what promises to be one of the most interesting local grid scenes in years.

Area residents got a view of the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chows, the Hancock North Central Hawks, and the Bay High Tigers last May during the 1989 Spring Football Jamboree.

The SSC Rocks shared as County Champions during that pre-season preview, defeating the HNC Hawks by a mere 3-0 margin on a Juan Bezares 30 yard field goal, and sliding by the Bay Tigers 24-0 on a 10 yard quarterback sneak by Joe Cea.

The Hawks defeated Bay High in the opening match 14-7.

This year SSC faces two tough opponents as they vie against Riverdale (New Orleans) and Slidell, two top-rated Quad A teams from Louisiana.

In addition, SSC takes on such perennial contenders as the Riverdale, Vandave, Pass Christian, and the Bay High, and for a homecoming treat, Hancock North Central.

Although the Rocks have no returning offensive backfield, the SSC squad has a host of returning linemen, both offensive and defensive, which may prove the deciding factor in a close game.

Head Coach Barry Jones said he is pleased with his 57-member squad, the largest team in the county this year.

Jones is also banking on his star veteran field goal kicker, Juan Bezares, who the SSC skipper said is capable of kicking as far as 60 yards from the uprights.

The Rock-A-Chows hit the thick of the season early as they travel to New Orleans against Riverdale at 7:30 p.m.

The Bay High Tigers, last year's surprise team with a 4-6 record, has few returning players and little depth, but retains its belief in winning strategy.

Head Coach James (Smitty) Smith has virtually no returning offensive backfield, and most of his experienced returners play at both defensive and offensive slots.

Smith is counting on community support and enthusiasm to pull his 35-member team through a rough schedule, which includes contests against such gridiron giants as HNC, Pass Christian, Riverdale, Long Beach, Vandave, St. Stanislaus, and St. Martin in seven straight games, ending the season against St. John in Gulfport.

The Tigers showed potential in the pre-season jamboree, holding off SSC and HNC and combining aerials and a solid running game to score against Hancock.

The Tiger defense held onslaughts by the Hawks and Rocks during the Spring event. If Smith can keep his squad injury-free throughout the first half of the season, we may see the Tigers with a winning season for the first time in seven years.

Hancock North Central has a very promising team, the only squad in the county with a returning backfield. But his gridiron squad is under athletic probation by the Mississippi High School Activities Association because of an incident occurring during the pre-season jamboree. Jones is also banking on his star veteran field goal kicker, Juan Bezares, who the SSC skipper said is capable of kicking as far as 60 yards from the uprights.

Head Coach Irvin Foye has returning quarterback Bobby Derrough who displays a fine all-around ability on the field and poses a big threat to opponents.

In addition to Derrough, Lloyd Henry, veteran runningback for the Hawks, is in top shape to face such teams as SSC, Vandave, Riverdale, and Pass Christian.

Henry was a leading rusher last year and has been doing a fine job in Fall training, according to Foye.

Foye has eight of 11 defensive specialists returning and six of seven offensive linemen who have seen action in the past, but, the HNC taskmaster notes, the lights

Foye said a lot of his players are on both the defensive and offensive squads and notes that injuries in the early part of the season could damage the team's chances for a good year.

Also last year, the Hawks were caught sleeping inside the 20 yard line and let many scoring opportunities pass when they were unable to move the ball to the goal line.

Foye said he has tried to eliminate the defensive attitude his squad had last season and will work on fundamentals.

The Pass Christian Pirates, skippered by Bob Lamphun, begin the season questionably as he seeks a replacement for star runningback Gene Lang, now on the field for Louisiana State University.

Most of Lamphun's backfield is gone, but Oscar Bailey, whose outstanding performance last year was shadowed by Lang's abilities, is expected to carry the load as the only experienced runningback on the Pass High team.

Lamphun said his eleven are bigger in size than last year, evidenced by six-foot-one, 250-pound, quarterback Earl Canway.

Lamphun also has a new coaching staff, which may make a difference in winning or losing.

Pass Christian also starts the season off in the rough as they open against Vandave on a Friday night at Riverdale in the next game, but the drive becomes post-season bowl games before Nov. 29 are not allowed for the HNC squad.

Head Coach Irvin Foye has returning quarterback Bobby Derrough who displays a fine all-around ability on the field and poses a big threat to opponents.

But is providing his team has regained a grip on the ball and does not fumble as often as it did last year, a definite factor in a number of close losses.

So, strike up the marching bands, heat up the hot chocolate, pull out the popcorns and spirit banners, because football season is here again.
